

NEW FICTION IN JANUARY:

- City of Endless Night
by Preston & Child
- Dark in Death
by J.D. Robb
- Promise Not to Tell
by Jayne Ann Krentz
- Shroud of Eternity
by Terry Goodkind
- Robicheaux
by James Lee Burke
- The Patriot
by James Patterson
- The Bomb Maker
by Thomas Perry
- The Grave's a Fine Quiet Place
by Alan Bradley
- Murder, Interrupted
by James Patterson
- Hell Bent
by Gregg Hurwitz
- Unbound
by Stuart Woods
- The Getaway
by Nora Roberts
- The Take
by Christopher Reich
- The Wife
by Alafair Burke
- Sisters Like Us
by Susan Mallery
- Thunderhead
by Neal Shusterman
- The Gatekeeper
by Charles Todd
- Spring Forward by Catherine Anderson
- The Cruel Prince
by Holly Black
- Still Me
by Jojo Moyes

Off The Shelf

NEWSLETTER OF THE HUDSON AREA PUBLIC LIBRARY
JANUARY 2018

Health Fair at the Library

We've got an amazing event planned for Saturday, January 13th! Stop by the Hudson Area Public Library anytime between 10:30am-1:30pm and meet local business owners and wellness providers from the community. Get to know what types of amazing, unique services are being offered locally! There will be activities for the whole family, giveaways, free samples, and a prize drawing. This special day is meant to bring together the community and showcase healthy living in all its forms. Save the date and don't miss the Health Fair at the Library!

Winter Reading Program

A good book, a cup of cocoa and a comfy chair—winter is for reading! The library's winter reading program kicks off January 3rd and runs through March 3rd. Visit our website to register and check-out the reading challenges you'll be able to complete to earn entries for prizes. Registration at the circulation desk and paper logs will also be available to log your reading time if you prefer to go the old-school route. Prizes include gift cards from our local Hudson businesses and some wonderful, winter-themed gift baskets. Anyone ages 13 and up is invited to participate. Don't miss out!

SCORE - small business mentoring

At the Hudson Area Public Library, we strive to offer support to our community members and neighbors in all sorts of areas. This month we're focused on serving those who are interested in starting a small business. Thanks to the generous support of our Hudson Area Library Foundation, we've scheduled a 5-part series on starting a small business presented by SCORE. SCORE is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping small businesses get off the ground through education and mentorship, and you're invited to attend their series at the library - for free! You will learn how to: define and evaluate your business idea, develop a marketing strategy, understand business financials, identify the best ways to fund your startup, get useful and helpful mentoring sessions, and connect with other entrepreneurs. Join us in room 219 every Thursday January 18-February 15 from 6-8pm. Please visit www.score.org to learn more about our presenters.